Project 2: Final Submission

What I am most proud of is my overall work. I am very happy with how this website came out, and I am very satisfied with the work this website turned out to be. Something I could have done better if I had more time was to create a calendar with time slots for the spa, and be able to reserve them. It is a big project to do, heavily using Javascript for the most part.

The changes that I made based on the feedback were the boxes on the Staff page, and the typos on the text found throughout the website. In addition I also made the changes to the color website to improve the quality and contrast better.

The resources I used for this project were Bootstrap, W3 school, and Adobe colors for all my color schemes. Some key design decisions that I made were the FAQs on the index page, to give a better understanding without having to rely on a user's answer, the contact page, making sure all fields are filled out before submitting the assignment, and the image sizings and box sizings to perfectly fit on the page.

Some advanced features that I used were mostly designing and using layouts with Bootstrap. Most of the designs heavily relied on Bootstrap, this has helped me with the work and simplified the css designs as well. Another advanced feature is the media query css designs as well. Being able to use the webpage across different devices is key to this website.

Problems that I have experienced throughout this project were mainly the queries and the Bootstrap. Although I said they are key components of my website that made my work the strongest, it also was difficult to use. Bootstrap and media query was not always agreeing with my work, and it was very difficult to adjust and work through the mistakes done.
